“ Our deepest sympathy to Tom and the family. The Veters were among our first acquaintances in Jefferson City and made us feel warmly welcomed at their home one evening before we had even unpacked. Jane's many contributions in diverse ways and places will continue to honor her memory for many years to come.

“ Dear Tom and family:
I'm sorry to learn of Jane's passing. Debbie & I appreciate your hospitality at your lovely home in Key West several years ago. I last spoke to Jane at Mr. Cook's funeral funeral 3 years ago.
You and your family will be in my thoughts and prayers.
With sympathy,

“ We moved across the street in Key West from Jane and Tom five years ago; Jane was the first person to visit, orchid in hand, to welcome us. It was always a delight when we arrived to see Jane, usually in front wearing gardening gloves, tending her beautiful plantings. She was always cheerful, even while ill, and she will be sorely missed.

“ I came to know Jane in the '70's when I worked for Gov. Kit Bond. She and Tom were social friends of the Bonds and often played tennis together. My life moved from politics to marrying an antique dealer. We then got reacquainted through her partnership with Jim Bryant in Cote Sans Dessin Antiques. We always enjoyed participating in the Estate Sales that they hosted, and will continue to do so. We know that Jim Bryant's heart aches deeply right now. Jim, we will all miss her and her ever present big smile. She stood out like a jewel among all of us pebbles. This is very sad news and we extend our sincere sympathy to her family. We know they will find comfort in knowing that Jane touched the hearts of everyone she met and instantly captured respect and friendship through her loving smile and kind ways.
