“ Uhh you were the cutest most annoying little brother. Lol I never thought I'd actually have to live without you that you'd just always be there. I have the best childhood memories with you. Wherever I was you weren't too far behind. I'll never forget your laugh or that smile on your face it was damn cute. I love you so much and wish we had longer together to make so many changes but instead I carry you with me always in my heart till my last breath. Watch over us bro and give everyone up there a huge hug and kiss for us. Till we meet again and I get to hug and kiss your face myself once more. Love always and forever your big sis!
