

Beth Bowermaster Washington

May 12, 1935 - May 17, 2019

Beth Bowermaster Washington passed away May 17, 2019.

She was preceded in death by her parents, William J Bowermaster and Elizabeth W. Bowermaster; her husband, George A. Washington and her son, Robert W. Washington of Centennial, Colorado.

Survivors include her daughter, Anne Washington Stutz (Brad); her grandson, Charles Stutz; her maternal nephews and niece, William C. Stewart, Amy Stewart Hickman (John), and David W. Stewart (Denise).

Beth was a kind, wonderful mother, grandmother and a devoted Christian. Her faith, family and friends were the cornerstones of her daily life. She was always trying to help others. Beth always found the good in every person.

Beth's family wishes to thank her close network of caring friends who helped her live her life on her own terms. A special thank you to her caregiver, Dawn Storm, for her loving and kind daily assistance.

A family memorial will follow at a later date. In lieu of flowers, please send memorial donations to a charity.

Tribute Wall

“ Beth Bowermaster Washington

October 15, 2023 at 09:39 PM

“ I went to a Bible study for several years with Beth. She always had a kind and loving heart. When my son was little and Beth would call to give an update or a reminder about the Bible study, he would see on the caller ID - George Washinton. He would yell, "Mommy, its the president's wife calling again." Beth will always have a place in my heart. 💕

Nancy Buckman - May 28, 2019 at 01:21 AM

“ Beth and I became neighbors and friends in 1959. Anne, we kept Robbie at our house the night you were born. We shared lots of good times together. Beth was always very loyal to her family and friends. She was my role model, but I fall short, in seeing the best in people and situations. She always had hope and faith for the future. My deepest sympathies to Anne, Brad and Charlie. Lucy Bertrand

Lucy Bertrand - May 26, 2019 at 08:15 AM

DS

“ Beth Washington was a very dear friend of our family for over 40 years. She and my mother spent much time together serving the Lord and growing in their faith. Miss Beth's picture is found in most of our family photo albums. She was kind enough to be interested in the births of our new babies, family weddings, and even in evacuating for Katrina, she accompanied us. The memories are too many to list. In the last few years, as her health needs increased, I was privileged to assume the role of her caretaker, although I recognize that this was a full team effort and many people assisted. Her family was always supportive of her wishes to remain independent and assisted her to make that possible. I would hope that Beth's legacy of being an honorable, faithful woman of God would be modeled and replicated by all of us who are alive and remain. To the family who love her, my deepest condolences . I miss her now and still have a hard time not planning on going to the Manor. When I want to be sad I remind myself that she's now in her mansion and rejoicing with Jesus which calms my grief. Much love and God's comfort to you all.

Dawn Storms - May 24, 2019 at 11:28 AM