

Deborah Ann Easter Easley

March 11, 1959 - January 29, 2016

Deborah Ann Easter Easley passed away peacefully at home surrounded by her family on January 29, 2016, at the age of 56. She was a native of Metairie, LA and a resident of Folsom, LA.

Deborah thrived as a fine dining server in New Orleans restaurants for many years before moving to Folsom, La. Deborah had a green thumb and she absolutely loved gardening. Her gardens flourished with unique tropical flowers. She tried her hand at farming when she moved to Folsom, and for a stint she sold her organic, heirloom vegetables at the local farmers markets.

A talented artist, she loved to create. She sewed beautiful handmade baby comforters, which she sold in a local store. Her murals were featured in Zephyr stadium and in bars and homes around New Orleans. She instilled creativity into those around her- -even her children's walls were painted with murals. Deborah loved music and enjoyed playing her guitar.

She was full of life, loved meeting new people, and had a contagious laugh. She never met a stranger. Deborah was devoted to her husband, siblings, children and grandchildren, and greatly valued friendships.

Beloved wife of 15 years to David Easley. Daughter of the late Helen Louise Scott Easter and the late Richard Jess Easter.

Stepmother of Dwight Coulon, Jr. (Amy), mother of Elizabeth Danielle' Coulon-Hildebrand (Gil) and Heather Allyson Coulon with her former spouse, the late Harry Dwight Coulon, Maurice Stephen Verheide, Rebecca Taylor Verheide with her former spouse Gary Alan Verheide, and stepdaughters Melissa Easley Kennedy and Stacy Ann Easley (David).

Grandmother of Sophia Evelyn Karno, Gabriel Paul Paredes, Ethan Scott Coulon, Trent Coulon, Derek Coulon and Violet Isabella Coulon, born only last week, on January 20, 2016. Mason Kennedy, Noelle Kennedy and Alyssa Mohammed.

Sister of the late Ricky Scott Easter, who just passed away, January 14, 2016, Janice Marie Easter, Nancy Lynette Martinez (Dave), Amy Louise Anderson and Rebecca Kathleen Chenault.

All whom were touched by Deborah's life are invited to attend the funeral and visitation at L.A . “ We shared a charmed childhood, complete with proper tea parties, and many, many creative endeavors~ including musical productions complete with props and costumes, Mardi Gras decorated wagon parades, setting up shop to sell our beautiful, handmade tissue paper flowers, a comprehensive 1-2-3 Spy Agency- to rival that of Sherlock Holmes. We all had a shared hamster, named Celeste, for about 2 days until she escaped- We had the most memorable times, taking trips to the candy store, riding on the firetrucks at 4th of July, climbing dirt mountains, visiting the K&B soda fountain, taking adventurous bike rides just beyond the edges of the neighborhood boundaries, singing Bible school songs on the swingset, sewing bean bags, learning how to crochet hair bun covers, wearing special Easter dresses and hats, running to catch the snowball man, playing hopscotch (serious tournaments) and kickball...having to pause to let the planes go by, we even tried out a Voodoo kit, superballs that would bounce to the sky, Yahtzee, and hanging out with our parents as they all sat in a big circle in the yard laughing and talking till the sun went down.

Debbie, Nancy, Susan, Terri, Lisa and me, all under the age of 10. I feel so very grateful for having been able to share the formative years of my life with you. Debbie was the genius and the energy behind it all. I will forever cherish and be thankful for these memories.

Rest in Paradise Debbie <3

“ Deborah had a spunk and thirst for life that was unparalleled. She kicked every illness, trial, and struggle that came her way square in the face so many times that it felt she was immortal, untouchable even. After her stroke(s) she was still so strong willed and full of zeal that she could've led any Mardi Gras parade we attended and it felt like nothing could keep her down for long. She mothered some amazing children whom I'm happy to say possess her same tenacious zeal for life, creativity, & gardening.

Our prayers are with all of you & your children as we celebrate the LIFE of this incredible woman and the beautiful legacy she's left behind in all of you. I think if I were able to ask her she would say that her children were her life's masterpiece and that each of them has SO much of her in them that is legacy is sure to live on...
