“ Well mom we did our first Christmas without you and it was the definitely sad. The whole time the kids were opening their gifts I was thinking how you told me your favorite thing to do is watch their facial expressions. I decided to take a little more notice to this and caught these moments for you. I miss you so much and have so many things to talk to you about in one long week. I can only imagine what I will feel like in another week. I just want to hug and kiss my mom. Miss you, Jennifer
