I met Debbie in 9th grade at Jefferson Junior High. Actually, we met on the school bus. We were both passionate Beatle fans and fans of many musical groups, especially British. We attended many rock & roll concerts together back then, even though we were just teenagers. We've kept in touch ever since.

Debbie had many pen-palls around the world. I asked her to help me get some pen-palls. She did & we had much fun writing letters & especially receiving letters from teenagers around the world. I kept in touch with a few of them for many years!

Back then there was no internet, no cell phones, no e-mail or texts. Letters would take weeks to get where they were going and it seemed like it would take forever to get an answer! But we were thrilled when a letter arrived! Debbie and I even wrote to identical twin girls in Liverpool, England. That's where the Beatles were from, so we were very excited about that! We poured over magazines of all the British groups. We would cut photos out of magazines of American groups, like the Beach Boys and sent them to our pen-palls in Europe, etc. in exchange for photos of the Beatles, etc.

After high school, we both attended Southeastern LA Univ. We were roommates as freshmen. Debbie even taught me to drive, using her own car as I didn't have one!

Debbie had a warm heart and was always friendly. She had kind words for everyone. She was a very caring, long-time friend. I sure miss her!
