“ One New Year's Eve, after having the glass bottle neck disintergrate on opening and slicing my ring finger wide open, Donna scrubbed out the wound and brought me to the emergency room for stitches. Can you imagine, the desire so strong to help a friend, that she didn't ask anyone, took it upon herself, and left her OWN New Year's Eve party to deal with me and the lunacy of an emergency room on that night, of all nights? What a sweetheart! Your love shall be missed. God bless, Eldon
