“ The caption said to "type your favorite memory of Eric". Anyone who knew Eric knows that every memory was a favorite. We're all sad to see him go but the memories of him are enough to keep us smiling for a lifetime.

“ It was a sad day when I heard that Eric had left this world. You will be missed. I remember all of the fun we had during Mardi Gras standing in front of the bank. You always had a smile on your face and enjoyed life to the fullest. I will keep your family in my prayers. Jeanne is my best friend and I will be here for her to get through this sad time.

“ I cannot believe that you are gone. You were so much more than a cousin, you were more like a brother to me. I just cannot put into words how heartbroken I am at the thought I will not see you on this earth again. Thanks for all the happy memories! It seems like yesterday we were all laughing at the lizzards hanging from your ears! I can still hear your mama saying "Bobby, you gotta get them off, he has to serve mass tonight!" I know that when this pain subsides my memories of you will bring more laughter than tears. You were always the life of the party and as Nick said before me, if you were going to be at a party, we knew we were going to have a good time. Your stories epitomised the phrase, "you can't make this stuff up!" I will miss that booming voice and heavy accent.... you lit up a room! I wish I could have said goodbye and had one last bear hug from you.... Godspeed....

 So glad you came to dinner with us, I will cherish this photo!

“ Eric was so much like my Dad. He loved to play jokes. He was never afraid of work. If you needed his help he was always there. What ever he did he wanted to do it the best. His proudest moments was when Natalie gave birth to Chad and Cory. He filled in the void for me when i lost my dad and then when John passed away. I know deep down his heart was broken but, he always remained strong. So Eric the only explanation is your work here on Earth was done and God needed you to be an angel. Rest in peace with Mama, Daddy, and John. Know that we will take care of Natalie, Chad, and Cory. I love you and miss you. Jeanne “ Eric always the one you hoped showed up to family events. If Eric was there, you were going to enjoy yourself. He has made me laugh so hard that tears flowed down. Now those tears flow for a different reason. Eric had a way to draw you in to whatever he was talking about. You wanted to be around Eric because you were going to enjoy the time spent with him. He had the ability to make you happy he was picking on you.

You will be missed and our hearts, tears, and prayers are with you as your enter God's kingdom with those who have gone before you. Our prayers and hearts are also with Chad, Cory, and Natalie! We love you!
