“ My condolences to Danny and his family. I was one of the unlucky few who never got to know Anne, she was a special person. I hope the service will bring your family closer together. Your Mother will always be watching over all of the lives that she has touched.

“ I know the effect Anne Teachworth has left on us all.....and, I'd like to share a happy time with her.... Years ago, while in New York City, we were walking down Broadway...just the two of us...At the far end of the block, was a Policeman and a Newspaper man...I walked down the street....Anne sash-shayed....by the time we got to the corner, she could have had a date with either of those two men....Without even opening her mouth!!! (Must have learned that from her "Flirting Classes")....I love you, Lynn

“ I have been a friend and client of Anne's for nearly 20 years. She was a lovely person, a brilliant professional, and a kind, sweet, woman.

As a scientist and a professional engineer, I consider her psychogenetic model to be a proven, effective, and well-constructed therapeutic tool.

Anne methodically culled the best of many well-thought psychological models to build a program that works very, very well. I should know; she helped fix a great number of broken and dented parts of my now well-healed psyche!

As a grown-up who finally learned how to put away the pieces of a badly tattered childhood, I hold Anne Teachworth fully responsible for changing the lives of at least three people, at the most fundamental level. Had I never worked with Anne, I never would have sloughed away so many years of self-doubt, and I never would have succeeded as I have both professionally and as a father to my two children.

Thanks to her hard work (on both our parts), her vision, and her kind patience, I became a strong, kind dad who gave his beautiful daughter and handsome son a happy, sane world in which to mature, even with Katrina thrown into the mix!

Anne Teachworth helped so many good people lift the bushel-baskets off so they could shine in the splendor and glory that comes with genuinely loving and caring about themselves and others, finally free of the conditioned guilt and shame from so many tragic stories of parents, families, and circumstances that came together just not quite right.

I will enjoy the rest of my days on earth with genuine and heartfelt gratitude for Anne's active role in helping me learn how to simply savor life, just for the sake of taking it all in! It has been a treat teaching my children that same lesson, too!

The ripple-effect of her good work, through all her clients, to the people they have touched with newfound kindness, radiates on and on.

With sadness for our loss and happiness for all the good she achieved, I will miss the gentle, southern drawl of my friend, Anne.

“ Mom, as the fifth of your six sons, you somehow managed to make each of us feel special. I was at your bedside when you left us. As tremendously hard as that was, I know in my heart, you absolutely would have been there for me and comforted me too.

I will forever miss your caring, loving, warm, gentle yet strong soul. You will live on in the hearts and minds of countless people. You are deeply, deeply, deeply missed. There wont be a day that goes by where I wont think of you.

*Your loving, loving son,
