“ This is a true account of my dear friend. These things I've witnessed personally : Bo was one of the kindest givers. He shared his life with those who were broken. He fed many a soul and opened his home to so many. He loved his daughters and raised them the best he knew how. He was a softy with a little bit of cayenne pepper mixed in if you crossed him. One thing for sure! - he was never pretentious! A real "what you see is what you get" kinda guy. We'd call from time to time when my husband and I left Laplace just to check on him and I knew from others he was suffering, but he never complained- not one time. Such a humble, country boy with a big ol heart. You will be missed and remembered. Farewell... my dear friend, until we meet again in the New Jerusalem. See you there Bo. Rest easy.

“ Bo Armstrong was my cousin and I loved him dearly. Him and me and other friends hung out together when we were teenagers. He was a special cousin to me. I really missed him when he moved to New Orleans and stayed for his whole life even though I knew his reasoning. He was a good man and would give you the shirt off of his back. He helped so many people during his lifetime. Bo, you will truly be missed. I love you, Delores(Lois) Kilgore
