“ Had to light a RED candle remembering of course how you liked that color!!! May you rest in peace. It's coming up to 2 yrs that you have departed living life loving family, friends. It has been awhile since our last visit together so, I really don't know how things were going for you. But, always wished the best for you. May you rest in peace. julie

My beloved friend Jose After carefully reading the comment I wrote to share sounded like we were still seeing each other and not reading back over it as I am now at the time had been a mistake on my part I wanted and needed to talk to a sincere friend because of what had happened in my life after I spoke to you last. It's how and why we stayed in touch. Our relationship was more off than on through the 30 yrs. with dating and marriages in between but we always stayed friends we talked about everything and anything. And I think that's why we stayed friends so long besides the fact that we never had an argument and that we had spent the same time in our lives in the same neighborhood even though we didn't know each other than. My dates were all off and I was terribly upset when I discovered that you had departed life on earth and still can't find anyone to find out how. I pray you rest in peace and departed by natural ways. Still love and miss you Julie

“My Beloved Jose as the days go I only miss you more Knowing I will never see you or hear the voice I yearned for most. Last month was 30 years of our relationship. It was my birthday and we went to the French Quarter on the balcony of Jackson Brewery which they have now enclosed. It was where You kissed me for the first time. You were standing on the step above me which made you even taller. Bamb! I was hooked. That is what I miss most but, the sound of your voice is what made my blood pump. I got you to buy that half pink sleeveless t-shirt and put it on right in the middle of Bourbon Street. You strutted down the street then knowing you looked good!!! I decided I wanted to end the relationship that was 5 years ago I wanted more. Our last conversation I would say had to be just before you left me forever. You thought I wanted to resume where we left off but, I just wanted to apologize for some of the things I texted told you . I'm glad I got to do that. If I could of known that was or would be our very last conversation but, if can't explain how I really feel. Because I'm sure everyone is thinking that. A few months ago I decided to look you up on computer. The page flashed across the screen obituary and went away. You can imagine my horror. I have no way of knowing what happened to you especially because you were so young and health was your thing. I first seen you with all that white hair in 1965 on Desire St. off St. Claude Ave. playing ball how I remember you now. I was on the bus getting ready to get off a few streets away where I lived. 9th Ward!!! Yea! It was a great place to grow up. And that made us alot alike. A very long long time ago. What happened keeps going around in my mind. You promised you would let me know if anything ever happened to you of course that was when we were talking. I just can't imagine never seeing you again. Can anyone contact me? I would greatly appreciate it. I feel so sorry for the family and friends that like me have to go on without you not still being here. My great condonences go out to all of you. I know he is greatly missed and still loved forever. And yes he was a gently giant. I will always love you always and miss you till the day I see you again. And I will never get over losing you, seeing and hearing your voice again. And remembering going to the water fall off Hwy. 90 with all those giant black grasshoppers that we were supposed to go back and visit again one day. But, we were supposed to do a lot more than we did and I kept waiting.

“ I would like to offer my deepest sympathies to you. I know the pain of a broken heart. Our Heavenly Father feels our pain. Psalms 34:18 assures us that He is near to those broken at heart. He does, however, hold out a promise that in the very near future He will wipe out all tears of sorrow and pain from our eyes and death will be no more. (Revelation 21:3-5) He also promises to remember all those in the memorial tombs (graves) and restore them to life. (John 5:28,29) Until those words are fulfilled, may you find much peace and comfort in God and in His promises found in the Holy Scriptures.

“ I'll never forget the Dox Jox days of baseball!! You was such a kind and generous person. All the after game meals and swims at the Abadie's. You will be deeply missed...and my prayers go out to your family.

Sincerely,
