“ Jules and I grew up together on Annex Street in New Sarpy and graduated together at DHS. He introduced my to dipping peanut butter turnovers into to coffee at 7 years old. The fun and good times we shared were wonderful. Thinking of Jules and his career in law enforcement always made me proud to call him my friend.

My thoughts and prayers go out to his family.

“ My brother in arms and my friend! I recall first meeting Jules when he was a reserve deputy back in 1981, he was struggling over his current job versus he calling to law enforcement. He became a full time deputy, we worked together and rose through the ranks together sometimes he was boss, other times we were peers, during all the times he was always fair, sincere professional and most importantly and a friend.

Take care my fiend!

I first met Jules back on April 19, 1982 the day I first walked into the 2nd District Patrol division my first day of work with SCSO. Our shift was relieving his. We hit it off right from the start. A true friendship of 35 plus years. Jules was that one friend that I could talk to about anything without judgment or criticism. I valued his opinions & consult above most.

Not only did Jules touch my life, but so many more that I personally witnessed him doing. He was a true leader and walked the Thin Blue Line with great pride and integrity.

I will miss our private talks, the exchange of old war stories, and some great jokes.

God bless you, Jules and maybyou continue to eatch down over us all My Brother and My Friend.

I met Jules soon after I started covering the Sheriff's Office for the Times-Picayune in 1990. I knew him as an honest and honorable man who cared about the safety of St. Charles Parish residents. He will be missed.

I, like so many others, knew Jules through ROCIC. He was such a fine man and always represented his department honorably. I just want his loved ones to know that he positively touched and blessed the lives of many. Janice Clardy Massa, Retired District Attorney, 19th Judicial Circuit, Alabama.
