“ My name is Lorena Mcelwee I had the pleasure of meeting Lilia 4 years ago I worked for her as a caregiver 3 years, And let me tell you about this wonderful lady , yes she was stubborn, funny, caring, sassy, we had our moments her and I, but I can tell you I learned what courage is and and dealing with things that's out of your control through her though she had many health issues she never complained not one day , even when I knew she should have been in pain, I thought I was a strong woman but she was truly one everything came her way she took it with Faith, I remember I went to work that morning and started crying I just found out that the Dr. found some cancerous tumors on my bladder, Instead of her having a pity party with me she looked at me very stern she said stop it right now stop that crying God will give you no more than what you can bear, look at me you choose fight and deal with it or fold your going to be okay that was in 2015 I have been fighting and living life ever since I have been cancer free Thanks to God and Thanks a wonderful woman you have me that courage to fight, even though I am stop working with her in March I would call her at least once a month so we could chat, I just spoke to her 2 weeks ago never knew it would be my last! Take your rest my friend Heaven has gained another angel! I love you!
