“ I miss you man. I wished I would of been there. You were always there for me, just know it never went unnoticed.

Ernesto Ramirez - July 05, 2018 at 11:42 AM

“ Luis, I had a dream last night about when my dad took us fishing when we were about 6 years old, I remember you getting mad because I caught the first fish, that was so you. I ended up waking up thinking about how I poked you in the eye with that stick in front of Tia's giving you that scar on your eye, and how you paid me back by dragging me by my hair giving me this scar on my chin. You are my absolute best cousin, and I will literally miss you for the rest of my life. I'm so sorry I wasn't there.

“ I always thought of Luis like one of my kids. He was always so sweet and well mannered. He spent a lot of quality time at my house with my grown kids and neighbors. I loved and respected him and will miss him. To his family there is no words that can express my sympathy for your loss. You raised a wonderful son. My sincere condolences. Cindy, Brandon, Ashley and Chris from Mobile, Alabama.

“ Im Julissa. Im sure of people know me as Luis's little sister. I just wanted someone to hear how much I love him. Not loved. Still love. People say you can pick your friends, but you cant pick your family. I guess they're right about that. Its not so bad though. I mean, dont get me wrong, my family is by no stretch of the word a "picture perfect family". My Mom is a little crazy and sometimes we cant stand each other. My Dad is kind of a bore sometimes and I haven't gotten to see him do anything really crazy. From what ive heard, I missed that phase of his life. David's, lets face it, a bit of a shut in. He prefers a quiet night alone in from of a computer screen with little to no noise, a bag full of cheeto puffs and a cat on his lap to occasionally pet like some kind of super villain. And even though theyre that and more, they're still family. And I love them. Each and everyone one of them. I guess youre all wondering why I havent mentioned Luis yet. The simple answer is he's really hard to describe in one sentence, no matter how long it is. All his family will say he was always a bit of a handful, but when it counted, he was a great man. His friends will say he was crazy and stubborn, but the best friend anyone could ask for. I can say either, because he was my big brother, but he was also my best friend. I miss him all the time. I see him in everything I do and I dont know when I'll fully be able to handle that.

I just hope he knew how much I loved him.

Jade Franze

“ My name is Jade Skelly (formally Jade Franze). I met Luis through my good friend Mike Lopera. I loved Luis from the first time we hung out. We would play Mario kart for hours... Drink beer and joke around. I would play with his hair when it was curly...After my senior prom the whole group went and hung out but my hair was up in all these curls and the bobby pins were driving me nuts and I couldn't get them out...so I laid in Luis' lap and he spent at least an hour or so carefully taking every last bobby pin out of my hair (must have been 100). Through the years he has always been there for me...always given me great advice. I have cried on his shoulder a few times... And no matter what my issue was (even if it were an issue with mike or James or Jeremy or whoever) he always always gave me honest advice...Luis would take up for me and have my back no matter what. He always kept me safe ..he wouldn't let anyone hurt me. He was a REAL FRIEND. Family and friendship was always very important to him. . will miss his jokes...and that smile...and his loyalty. My mom loved him as well. She always loved how kind he was and how polite and helpul he was. Luis was a great guy, and a very dear friend of mine. He will remain in my heart forever. My deepest condolences go out to his family...and friends. I pray that everyone will find peace and I pray that god helps us all through this rough time. I love you luis Lopez. My heart hurts and I will miss you dearly. Please watch over us from time to time.

“ I am so sorry for the loss of Luis. He was always such a well mannered and respectful young man. I remember the first time that he came home with Ryan, I was very impressed with his manners, and he had a super personality. My Husband and I had just ran into him at the back store, and he was so happy to see us. My heart is broken, he will be missed. God took a good one home, when he took Luis. God Bless you all and hold you close always. Barbara, and Dale Wilkinson
