“ Maureen was one of the very finest people I know. I worked with her for years. She was a gentle, unflappable, sweet lady that liked to laugh. I remember her stories from her high school days when students would dance every day at lunchtime. She really lit up when telling us about those good times. She never spoke badly about anyone. Her moral compass was high. Maureen loved her family very much as anyone could hear when she talked. Her heart was gold. I will always remember her.
