“ Dick was a dear friend to both of us. He rejoiced with you in good times and prayed for you and with you in times of need. He was fair in all things he did, especially with his tenants. He treated everyone the way he would like to be treated himself. He was very talented and used his talents to further God's kingdom. His special talent was art. Although we were not in his Sunday School class, we use to sneek a peek to see what he had drawn in chalk for his class each Sunday. The drawings were great illustrations of the Bible lesson on the day. Although we know he is rejoicing with Our Lord in heaven, he will be greatly missed here on earth. Juel & Karen Diaz
