“ There are two memories that I have from when Bob lived at 508. The first is when I climbed the back fire escape to knock on the window of the room you were sleeping in. I remember Nana saying you were not the easiest person to get up. The second is just before you headed to Florida, I went with you to see a few of your buddies and we drove around Washington which seemed like forever.

Uncle Bobby was my MALE mentor while living at 508. He introduced me to the ball park(hard ball), made sure I practiced foul shots on the backboard and basket attached to the coal shed in the back yard. Remember him often coming home later than Nana though appropriate. Too many childhood memories to share here. In suspect Nana has catheter her children at a kitchen table in heaven serving advice and steamed crabs.

I miss you Uncle Bobby ❤️
