“ Evelyn, so sorry to see your Mom's death notice. As I told her when she came to Audubon with you, I remember her in her McDonogh band uniform. May you have good lasting memories 🥰

“ Grandma, you were the best grandmother. You never missed a thing and you always had open arms and an open door. Things will never be the same. You surely knew how to live. I now will say “live like sandy” because it’s a full adventurous life and if you do it that way. I love you. I miss you already. Until we meet again. 💜

“ We both have had a long life, mostly apart. A father who was in the service and gone frequently, raised by a mother lovingly. Fought like cats and dogs when really young although we always took a good picture together, the happy twins; NOT, born 12 minutes apart. Separated when she got married and I went off to college, reunited many years later and became as close as ever as she remarried a wonderful man. Distances prevented us from seeing each other a lot, but there were many phone calls and I visited with her every time I got to New Orleans. I feel as close to her children and grandchildren as if they were my own and I'm sure she felt the same way about mine. Rest in Peace, dear sister, you will be missed, say HI to Mom and Dad for me....Sid (Joe) Richardson
