“ When I heard about Steve’s death, my heart felt like it was going to explode. Steve just had a way of making anyone around him smile. He didn’t even have to speak. If you knew him and his personality, you would smile. We played numerous games of pool together and we danced in between. We both loved Steely Dan and would play their songs on the jukebox often. I have so many wonderful memories of him that will never be forgotten. Those memories will stay fresh in my heart until I join him in Heaven. I know how hard this must be for his family to lose such a wonderful person. I can’t even imagine the pain you are all feeling. If I could take it from all of you, I would. Steve was so full of life and I feel blessed that he came into my life and we were able to spend time together. I am crying right now but I am also smiling, because whenever I think about Steve, I smile.

Sincerely,
Missy Newton
