“ Dear Graff Family, I was deeply saddened to hear of your loss. America's fighting soldiers and their families sacrifice much to ensure that our nation stays free. We owe a debt of gratitude to the ones that have paid the ultimate price for this cause. Travis is a hero. May his soul rest in perfect peace. The bond you shared with Travis doesn't end with death. The memories you've shared and the love you had lives on. Travis lives on in your heart, your mind and your soul. Take comfort in sweet memories of times shared together. Please know that my thoughts and prayers will be with you in the days and weeks ahead. In Deepest Sympathy, Colleen M. Ducarpe

“ Trav, my sweet, and tender hearted next door neighbor and buddy, i will miss the morning talks over the fence, and seeing your head bobbing along over there as you scurried around busy on your next project. Over the years, our families have grown to be like family. Youve listened to me complain, counseled and consoled probably all of us, and never were short of a good story to get my mind off of whatever it was. How the heck did you have a story for everything! Well, im glad you did. I hardly ever saw you without a smile from ear to ear in the 11 years ive known you. Thank you for the smiles. Through tears, Travis, and with all my love to you and to your beautiful family, until we meet again, my friend, good night.

“ Travis and I were friends at Sunday School and later at Meisler and Grace King. I think it was 6th grade year (12th or 13th birthday) that my mom let me have a "supervised" house party and i invited a bunch of people, but only Travis showed up. We ended up crank calling the world that night. He was there on the most lonely, embarrassing night of my young life.

“ Travis Graff, also known as "Crawdaddy," to your Army brothers. You were a gunner in weapons squad and carried that 240b with pride, knowing you were in control of the platoons mass fire power. I won't ever forget the pride you took in your New Orleans Saints or when you got your fleur-di-lis tattoo! I'll miss when you would say, "Whats up Playboy!" You will truly be missed my brother! Rest easy paratrooper, God bless!
