“ Vince, as your wife of almost 27 years, I just have to say that I could not have asked for a better husband or friend. You stood beside me through all the rough times. I am so very grateful I met you when I did and was lucky enough to call you mine. My life, My love, My heart, My husband, My friend, My everything. I cannot wait until I can see your gorgeous smile again. I love you so very, very much sweetheart. You will always remain in my heart, mind and soul. I will not say goodbye, I will just say "till we meet again"!

“ Karen, words cannot express how sorry I am for your loss. Sometimes, we find it comforting just to know that there are people out here that really care and are praying and thinking about you. I've never had a husband, so I can't imagine your pain. I hope that it eases some quickly and you heal soon Your Facebook family is here for you. All my thoughts, best wishes, and prayers are with you and your family. I hope that you will find it comforting to know how many people care about you. All my love and best wishes go with you today and in the future. God bless you and your family., All my love, Annette

“Karen, I really am at a loss for words to convey how deeply sorry we are for the unexpected passing of Vince. There are people in your life that you assume will always be there. Then, without any warning, they're just gone. There's no way to be prepared. No one teaches us how to go on without the person we thought we'd spend the rest of our lives with. So, we are left to our own devices. As a family, we want you to know that you will never be alone. I'll always remember Vince's best qualities: his quirky sense of humor (I'm living my poor story now), his ready smile, his love for Josh, his devotion to Grandpa Ward, the fact that he would literally give someone the shirt off his back if they needed it, his love of family, the way he could fall asleep in seconds anywhere he happened to be, the fact that he worked 6 days a week for years to support his family. But what showed the most was how much he loved you. Never ever forget that feeling. Keep it in your heart and soul. And, someday, those memories will be his legacy to you.

I know how raw your wounds are right now. I know it sounds cliché but, as time goes by, it won't hurt quite so much. You'll always have that empty space in your heart and sadness never goes away but, you'll look at the irreplaceable memories and thank God that you have almost 30 years of shared memories.

We love you and grieve with you and we will always be here for you. Don't be scared of the future. Vince's soul will always be with you and will always help you when you need it. May he rest in God's peace. 💔😭

Tambi Delcambre - August 17, 2017 at 12:36 AM

Thank you, my dear sweet Sister. You have always stood by my side. You have been here for me. For this, I am grateful. I am proud and honored to call you not only my sister, but my friend.

Karen Rogers - August 17, 2017 at 10:26 PM

Tambi, what you wrote to your little sister is beautiful. You made me cry. Karen, know that you are loved by Tambi and the rest of your family, including the Taylor clan. I can't even imagine the shock and heartache you are feeling. Go forward knowing you were deeply loved by Vince and are loved by us. We will see you tomorrow, my sweet cousin.
